

Discovering the Adult Baby in you - the joys, the struggles, the highs and the lows.

Hi to everyone and especially to our new subscribers. We have recently had a large number of new people from Europe and particularly from France. We have just started the process of having our articles translated into French and if all goes well, our books too. So, stay tuned!

Trying to put ABDL into the middle of a relationship is difficult and fraught with failures. As part of the step of knowing more about this issue, AB Discovery has a new survey for you to fill in:

“Discovering that your partner likes to wear diapers or even to dress-up and play as a baby can be a very difficult issue to deal with. Both partners come from opposite sides of the debate and finding compromise or even just understanding, can be very problematic. Some relationships have even foundered because of it. To most people, it is incomprehensible and foolish!

Rosalie Bent’s latest book – Coffee with Rosie – is a conversational style discussion about the issues YOU face and how to help you deal with them. Written by a woman whose own husband is a diaper-wearing Adult Baby, she has the skills and the experience to guide you through this very private and frustrating problem. Come and share seven ‘Coffees with Rosie’ as she explains her journey and gives you the clues to navigate your own.”
